Michael C. Bowden

Founder, Chief Executive Officer

Michael C. Bowden is the Founder and CEO of IPC Global Solutions. Mike believes that hard work, an entrepreneurial spirit and putting customers first have been the winning formula for his success in business.

Born and raised in Ottumwa, Iowa, Mike is a veteran of the United States Navy having been honorably discharged in 1973 after four years of service. For the seven years that followed, Mike settled in New England and worked full-time while attending night school seeking his Bachelor's Degree and an MBA. Mike gained experience in the automotive aftermarket industry in several finance and operations roles that he held during and a few years after finishing college. In 1986, Mike founded IPC Global Solutions and lead an entrepreneurial team to begin the development of a company dedicated to excellence in quality, customer satisfaction and creativity. Mike has now led the organization for over thirty-one years and remains passionate about listening to customers and developing creative ways to deliver the highest levels of quality and customer satisfaction.
